so you’re thinking about studying in Japan? things are looking up, that’s for sure. a lot of companies are setting up offices in Japan.

but it’s also important to consider the cost of living.
